American Roots Reinvented

A Philadelphia-based ensemble playing adventurous American roots music. Influenced by modern bluegrass, old time, and celtic sounds, the band brings a unique free-wheeling and improvisational energy to both classic tunes and originals.

Fish Harmonics is led by master accordionist Rob Curto (Matuto, Rob Curto's Forró for All), recognized as a primary ambassador of the Brazilian Forró sound to the US, including through Matuto's unique "Brazilian-bluegrass" sound. Curto's accordion is joined by bluegrass strings, rhythmic arco bass playing, and groove-oriented drumming to create a sound both familiar and quite unheard of—a toe-tapping adventure to the ears.

Fish Harmonics performs as a quartet or trio.

Line up: 3 or 4 on-stage (accordion, bass, drums, banjo/mando/guitar)
